

The Boston 9/11 Truth Committee Presents: “An Evening with Colonel Robert Bowman and Filmmaker John Albanese”

Friday December 15, 2006, 7:00 PM

Boston College – McGuinn Auditorium – Admission free – Donations gratefully accepted

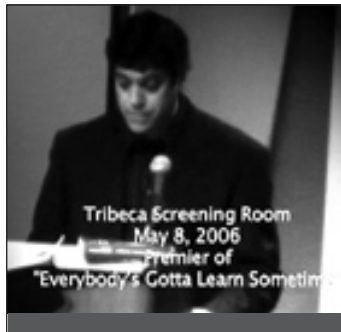

Col. Robert Bowman, PhD, U.S. Air Force (ret)—Recent candidate for Congress and current 9/11 Truth Activist, Director of Advanced Space Programs Development under Presidents Ford and Carter, Air Force fighter pilot, over 100 combat missions, PhD in Aeronautics, Nuclear Engineering from Caltech. Dr Bowman is one of the country's foremost experts on National Security.

Dr. Bowman's lecture will focus on the importance of the 9/11 movement, its need to provide a strong voice in today's society, and how the movement relates to the current political process at large.

“The US government at the highest levels may have committed treason and mass murder by purposely allowing 9/11 to happen.”

— Dr. Robert M. Bowman

US government and 9/11 Commission are covering up: 42%
Results from nationwide poll-Zogby America,
5/12/06 through 5/16/06

Filmmaker John Albanese—The creator of the 9/11 Truth documentary “Everybody's Gotta Learn Sometime” will present his acclaimed film and address unanswered questions about the events of 9/11/01 and explore our collective resistance to facing the truth of how and why these events occurred. The presentation will include a question and answer period with the focus on media participation, and will challenge the audience to consider what constitutes the public's right to demand accountability from the media.

The growing number of Americans demanding accountability and transparency on the issue of September 11th indicates that an effective argument could be made that the media has been derelict in its duty, and has failed to serve the public on this issue.

“There should be no shame in openly questioning, and venting, and demanding that the historical record be clear. There should be no wall of silence erected to stymie the lingering questions that Americans and world citizens continue to ask.”

— John J. Albanese

Directions to McGuinn Auditorium: Via the T - Take the Green line D train to the Chestnut Hill Station. Exit the station via the parking lot and turn right onto Hammond Street. Walk about one half mile to Beacon Street. Turn right on Beacon and walk about two tenths of a mile to the second gated road entrance on your left. Entering this entrance, McGuinn Auditorium is the first building on your left.

Via Car from Boston - Coming from downtown via Route 9, turn right on Hammond Street (just before CVS drugstore and first segment of Chestnut Hill Mall). Drive 8/10ths of a mile to Beacon Street. Turn right on Beacon and note that entrance to campus area where McGuinn Auditorium is located is 2/10ths of a mile on your left and that McGuinn Auditorium is the first building on your left once you enter the campus. Proceed to parking garage which is 4/10ths of a mile (from Hammond) on your left off Beacon.

Via car from North, South or West of Boston area - Take Route 128 (US 95) to Route 9 East (located 2.4 miles south of the turnpike). Take Route 9 East (toward Boston) 3.7 miles to Hammond Street (note CVS on left, just past second segment of mall area). Turn left on Hammond and drive 8/10ths of a mile to Beacon Street. Turn right on Beacon and note that entrance to campus area where McGuinn Auditorium is located is 2/10ths of a mile on your left and that McGuinn Auditorium is the first building on your left once you enter the campus. Proceed to parking garage which is 4/10ths of a mile (from Hammond) on your left off Beacon.

Parking is available in the Beacon Street Garage, on the east side of the BC Football stadium on Beacon Street.

http:// boston911truth.org – truth@boston911truth.org – Voice Mail: 617-401-8047